

Message from the publisher

The International Endodontic Journal aims at publishing the best research in Endodontology.

Rapid publication time and ease of access are key parameters for authors and readers of scientific journals. The Journal is committed to supporting both authors and readers by implementing a forward-looking editorial policy and by ensuring relevant online platforms.

The Journal supports authors by providing easy access when submitting their papers and a rapid online review process using a customized submission and review platform. We also enable authors to keep track of their articles during the review process as well as the publication process after a paper has been accepted for publication.

Readers of the International Endodontic Journal benefit from a number of services to ensure awareness and easy access to the high quality research published in the journal.

- The back issues of the journal from the first issue published in April 1967 until today are digitized so that the complete collection is available at one online platform. The articles are now searchable online at <http://www.blackwell-synergy.com> where all articles are also available for download in a pdf format

- The International Endodontic Journal focuses on ensuring fast publication of the latest research to its readership. Articles are published online prior to being made available in the printed journal

- Readers are invited to keep up to date on new articles via a selection of services. E-notifications are available and readers can sign up to receive 'tables of content' in an e-mail. E-alerts are also available for citation of articles

The services enable readers to fully benefit from the cutting edge editorial policies implemented by the Journal. It is vital to keep up to date with the latest developments, and readers of International Endodontic Journal are ensured immediate access to the latest research.
